DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed February 8, 2005 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Independent claim specifies that the processor is connectable to "at least one additional vehicle system." However, there is no initial vehicle system described. It will be assumed that the processor and the at least two pressure sensors are the initial vehicle system for this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2857

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 6, 7, 9, and 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Zumpano (US Patent 6,513,829).

With respect to claim 6, Zumpano teaches a device for impact sensing (col 10, In 52-67), comprising:

a processor (col 10, In 63-65); and at least two pressure sensors connectable to the processor to communicate at least one pressure value each to the processor, the processor being configured to perform an impact sensing based on the at least one pressure value (col 10, In 52-67);

wherein the processor is connectable to at least one additional vehicle system to transmit the at least one pressure value to the at least one additional vehicle system (col 13, In 63-65).

With respect to claim 7, Zumpano teaches the at least one additional vehicle system is an injection system (i.e., inflation system injects air into inflatable members) (col 14, In 13-24).

With respect to claim 9, Zumpano teaches the at least one additional vehicle system is configured to control its function as a function of the at least one pressure value (col 14, In 1-12).

With respect to claim 10, Zumpano teaches the at least one pressure value is a differential pressure value (col 12, ln 59-67).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zumpano (US Patent 6,513,829) in view of Bohner et al. (US Patent 6,269,903) (hereinafter "Bohner"). Zumpano teaches all limitations of parent claim 6 as shown above, but does not teach plausibility checking. Bohner teaches plausibility checking on pressure sensor values (Bohner: col 8, ln 1-3). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the teachings of Zumpano to include the plausibility checking of Bohner because this will ensure proper functioning of the pressure sensors (Bohner: col 7, ln 61-63) and ensure that the system is functioning during emergency situations (Bohner: col 2, ln 5-7).

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Zumpano (US Patent 6,209,908) teaches an inflatable restraint assembly for vehicles.

Stride (US Patent 6,212,456) teaches a pedestrian impact sensor system.

Sparks et al. (US Patent 6,338,010) teaches a multi-sensor module for communicating sensor information over a vehicle data bus.

Breed (US PGPub 2002/0166710) teaches a method and apparatus for deploying airbags.

Eisele et al. (US PGPub 2003/0051530) teaches a device for impact detection in a vehicle.

Roelleke et al. (US PGPub 2003/0140679) teaches a device for side impact detection in a motor vehicle.

Schofield et al. (US Patent 6,302,545) teaches a vehicle control system and method.

Breed et al. (US Patent 6,328,126) teaches a crush sensing vehicle crash sensor.
